ChatGPT vs Claude vs Gemini: Quick Comparison Card

A practical starting point, not a league table. All three can support a range of everyday tasks; the best fit depends on your work, preferred tools and the options currently available to you.

Compare by workflow

Quick cue	ChatGPT	Claude	Gemini
Provider	OpenAI	Anthropic	Google
Consider it when	You want to try a broad, general-purpose assistant for everyday questions and tasks.	Your focus is drafting, revising or analysing written material.	Your workflow already centres on Google tools or services.
Try this	Give it a real everyday task. Compare clarity, useful follow-up and convenience.	Try a draft or document. Check tone, edits and how it handles sources.	Test it alongside your Google workflow. Check current integrations and source handling.

A simple way to decide

Run the same real task in each. Choose the one that suits your workflow, access needs and data requirements.
Check current product details before sharing sensitive or work information.
Product details, plans, models and features change. Availability and included tools may vary by region and plan; check each provider's current information.